

All is Gift

“Before I formed you in the womb I knew you...”

God has known us
since the very first moment of our being.

God created us as his gift to the world -
Just as we are.

But we are often afraid—and hide behind masks.
placed between ourselves and God —
placed between ourselves and others.

When do I hide behind a mask?
What do I want the mask to portray?
How can I learn to trust that God —
and others —
love what is behind the mask?
